On May 19, the Central European Initiative \(CEI\) will organize the “Fostering Bioeconomy in the Danube Region” workshop at CEI premises in Trieste, Italy.

The event will aim at capitalizing on the inputs collected during the implementation of the Danube-Inco.Net project through the engagement of a panel of experts and stakeholders from the Danube region and beyond. Starting from the two position papers that have been drafted in the framework of the Danube-Inco.Net project (“Towards a Danube Bioeconomy RTI strategy for appropriate regional added value Chains” and “Building a Bioeconomy Research and Advocacy Network in the Danube Region”), participants will elaborate on policy measures addressing governance, finance and RTI. As a result, a consolidated set of recommendations and a mid-term roadmap to foster the Bioeconomy in the Danube region will be elaborated.
